ZEYNEP PAYZANO LU

Imagine having only four months to prepare to move across the world. Senior Zeynep Payzanoğlu, an exchange student from Turkey, had no more than four months to pick her life up and bring it to Seaside, Oregon. Since being here, Payzanoğlu has experienced many firsts, such as her first Christmas. "I didn't, like, know much about it because I didn't have it before, but it was pretty fun! I like the presents part." In Turkey, Christmas is only celebrated by heavily religious citizens.

Since being in the United States, Payzanoğlu has challenged herself to try many new things, especially academically. She has joined FBLA, hoping for a chance to visit Disneyland! She has tried her hand at graphic art, with the help of Mr. Verhulst, and has taken clay arts twice. Aside from knowing Turkish, French, and English, Payzanoğlu has now added Spanish to the list of languages that she can speak.

Being in the spotlight is no new experience for Payzanoğlu. She has performed many plays in Turkey, many of them many hours long. In this year's winter musical, she played a Hispanic woman in an American play. Payzanoğlu has an amazing memory, which definitely shows in the fact she memorized all her English lines, a secondary language for Payzanoğlu. She was also crowned as a Homecoming princess.

Payzanoğlu sends a smile to everyone she has met so far on her exchange, and has quickly acclimated to a Seaside student life. Many people have befriended her, having no idea she will return back home to Turkey after this year. She will be dearly missed by not just students, but many many teachers and administrators, including her host father, our very own Mr. Roberts. Having Payzanoğlu here at Seaside High School has been a pleasure; she has definitely left a mark on Seaside High School.

Imagine living your whole life in Longview, WA, when your parents inform you that you are moving to a tiny town on the coast of Oregon at the beginning of your senior year. Some of us would cry, scream, shout, and basically lose our minds. Not Miss Alejandra Mayes, recently of Longview and new resident of Seaside, OR. Her parents decided to move last year to open Good To Go, a business downtown that sells "carnival food;" things like churros, tamales and hot dogs. Instead of freaking out, Alejandra embraced the change and came to Seaside High School ready to try something new, even though she was just about to start her senior year. In her own words, "I was really excited to move to a new town!"

Mayes' previous high school, RA Long High School in Longview, had over 2000 students....that's five times as many students as SHS! At RA Long, she was an active member of multiple clubs and organizations like Avid (similar to Upward Bound), Key Club, Multiultural Club, Spanish Club and the Buddy Club. When asked how SHS compares with her former high school, she replied that she loves it here at her new school and her new community. She enjoys the convenience of living in a small town where she can walk anywhere to do almost anything. Working at downtown Candyman, Alejandra says that she likes how kind local folk are and enjoys meeting tourists from all different walks of life. In addition to working downtown and helping her mom with her store and her younger siblings, Alejandra has thrown herself into making the most of her senior year. Her plans post-graduation include the possibility of joining the Air Force or becoming a firefighter. We are lucky that Alejandra came to our community with such a positive, open-minded attitude. She has definitely left a legacy for future generations of Seagulls.

ALEJANDRA MAYES

"Pain is temporary. It may last a minute, or an hour, or a day, or a year, but eventually it will subside and something else will take its place. If I quit, however, it lasts forever." This is the quote that Phoenix Johnson strives to live by, and hopes to continue to live by in his future adventures. Johnson plans to join the Coast Guard and will be shipping out August 28, 2017. He discovered he wanted to be in the military at age 16, and knew from the start that he wanted to join the Coast Guard. Johnson has two cousins already enlisted, and are his motivation for joining himself. He says he is going into the Coast Guard for one job, which is to be a Maritime Enforcement Specialist. As an ME, Johnson's main job will be to board vessels and search for illegal substances.

Johnson predicts that his basic training will not be as hard as his recruiter often warns him it will be. He is very excited to move on with his life, but mostly looks forward to having interesting stories of his own to share with friends and family. Of all things, Johnson thinks he will miss running track the most, which has been his favorite sport since 7th grade.

BRAXTON DEKEZEL

It is senior Braxton Dekezel's goal to one day have his body from his neck to his toes covered in tattoos. Many of his role models have a lot of tattoos, and he wants to have just as many. His favorite rap artist has his body covered in tattoos. "Shout out to Lil' Peep," states Dekezel. So far he has 10 tattoos. They are mostly on his arms, but he has a few on his legs as well. His favorite tattoo is a small smiley face on his right hand that he got from his girlfriend. On the same hand he has an upside down cross, which he got to make religious people angry. One of the tattoos he has on his arm is an anarchy tattoo, which he has for several reasons. Dekezel was first introduced to anarchy from the movie called "SLC Punk", which is now his favorite movie. From this movie he discovered his love for punk rock music, and the punk lifestyle. He likes the punk lifestyle because he disagrees with many aspects of the United States government. The balloon on his arm was his first tattoo, which he got when he was 15 years old. The peace sign tattoo on his arm was given to him shortly after the balloon, on the same day. The tattoo was accidentally upside down. Dekezel also has a tattoo honoring his favorite band, Nirvana. Dekezel states, "Nirvana is the greatest band ever created, ever. Period. Ever. He is a man god in the shape of a man, who is a god." When Dekezel and his family took their trip to Hawaii, he got his only professional tattoo that he has. The tattoo is of a weeping sun, which also happens to be a band tattoo. The sun is the logo for the popular reggae band Sublime. He got the Sublime tattoo because it was sunny and warm in Hawaii, which made him happy. The first tattoo that Dekezel got on his leg was a small red triangle, which was a test run of a tattoo gun that he purchased. He chose for it to be a triangle because it is his favorite shape. "People say 3 is a crowd, but it's not in shapes, and not in corners," stated Dekezel. In big numbers on his arm is 309. These numbers are the area code for his hometown, Moline, Illinois. He sometimes misses living in Moline, but is happy to be in Seaside Oregon. The last tattoo that Dekezel has is a large tattoo on his calf. The tattoo is of a stick figure with a gun, which he got inspiration from a movie called "Hesher". Even with all of these tattoos, he wants to have more. As of April 14th, he has a scheduled appointment to get another tattoo, at this point the tattoo is undecided. In the future expect him to be inked up, because that is what he strives for.

NATE COBURN

As time continues to go by, more and more games become available to play. Many people enjoy playing video games, some people enjoy playing just for fun, and some even as a lifestyle. Senior Nate Coburn has been gaming for 11 years. Coburn first started gaming for several reasons. Coburn stated, "I like being challenged with different tasks that make you think." Coburn has a very large collection of games, ranging from some of the first made consoles and games, to modern day games. Coburn first started collecting games because he wanted his own, rather than having to go to his friends houses to play their games. Coburn's collection includes twelve home consoles, and thirteen handheld games. For each game console he owns from between five to up to fifteen games. Even though Coburn has a large variety of options, everyone has a favorite. His recent favorite console to play on is the Atari 2600. Each gaming console has it's own unique features. Coburn stated, "Either you can play something as simple like the Atari with just a button and a joystick, or you can play something with a challenge like the PS4. It's fun to see the graphics evolve." Through all of Coburn's years of gaming, he has acquired extensive knowledge of many games. "I love going to any game store and swindling down their outrages prices. Its so funny to watch the owner get mad because I know more about the games than they do." Coburn has a creatively decorated room dedicated to gaming and movies at his house, which is all decked out with posters, cozy chairs, and refreshing beverages. It makes for a fun and relaxing environment to hang out in.

To my little one: My brave, brilliant, beautiful, multitalented, misunderstood omnivert. You have come a long way in your 18 years on this planet. I am so proud of you. I know the world ahead is scary and unknown, but I have faith in you. Just remember how many obstacles you've already overcome. On one fateful day in 1999, you swung your club foot cast over your little baby self, and discovered Physics could be a roller coaster ride across the living room floor. That's the day I knew you'd always be able to take any hurdle and fly right over it, with a joyous scream and a fit of laughter. Love you all that, times infinity, plus one. Mom

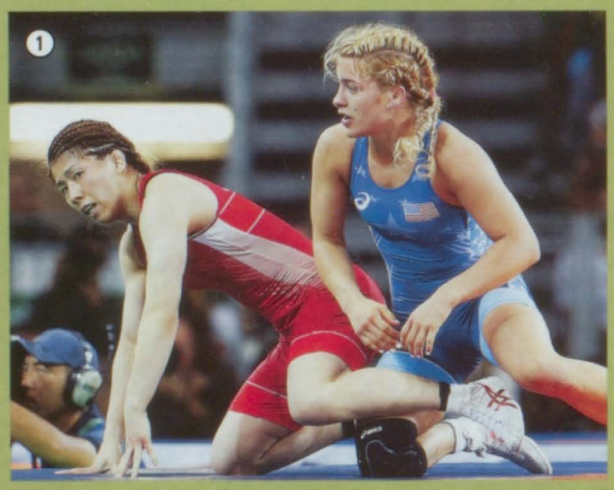
BLOOD, SWEAT, TEARS & HUNDREDS OF MEDALS

IT'S WHAT THE OLYMPIC SPIRIT WAS MADE OF IN RIO DE JANEIRO, BRAZIL.

11,237 OF THE WORLD'S GREATEST ATHLETES from all over the globe gathered in August to pursue lifelong dreams and compete for Olympic glory. There were firsts, as Rio was the first South American city to host the Olympic Games. There were records broken — the United States earning 121 medals — surpassing the previous record of medals earned (which they also held). There were downfalls in the form of injuries, controversies and losses. But there were, of course, tremendous and victorious triumphs, celebrations of nations coming together, demonstration of character and pure grit and moments of relishing in hard work, determination, talent and tenacity — true athletic prowess at its finest.



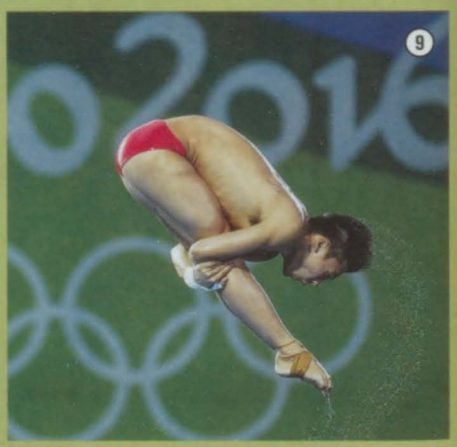
1. HELEN MAROULIS, the first American woman to earn Olympic gold in wrestling, defeated opponent Saori Yoshida of Japan.

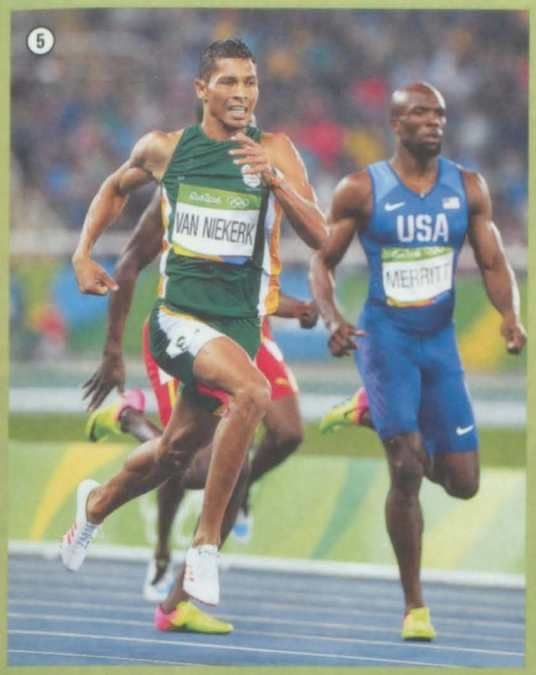
2. NEYMAR DELIVERED A HOME TEAM VICTORY, earning Brazil soccer gold after scoring the winning penalty kick, 5-4 against Germany.

DREAMS & DEFEAT

3. AN UNFORTUNATE MISSTEP for French gymnast Samir Ait Said resulted in a lower leg break during the men's qualifying round.

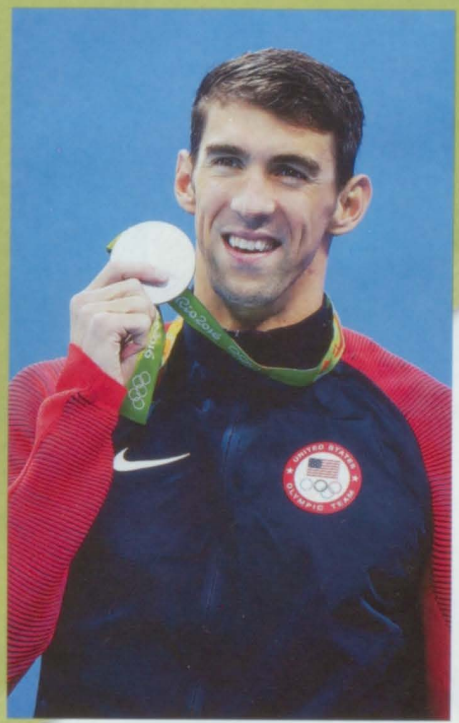
4. THE 100-METER HURDLES were dominated by Americans: Brianna Rollins, Nia Ali and Kristi Castlin who finished first, second and third, respectively.





5. SOUTH AFRICA'S WAYDE VAN NIEKERK broke a 17-year-old record in the 400-meter race, earning gold with a time of 43.03 seconds. He largely credited his 74-year-old coach, former sprinter and long jumper, Anna Botha. 6. AFTER ACHIEVING A "TRIPLE-TRIPLE" by winning all three sprint titles at three consecutive games, Jamaican track and field star Usain Bolt declared his desire to be the greatest. 7. DEEMED THE "FINAL FIVE," Aly Raisman, Madison Kocian, Laurie Hernandez, Gabby Douglas and Simone Biles won nine medals at the Rio Olympic Games, breaking the previous record of eight medals shared by the 1984 and 2008 teams. The U.S. women's gymnastics team celebrated victory over all rivals with a total of 8.209 points; Russia fell to second place, while China came in third. 8. TWO DISTANCE RUNNERS COLLIDED during the women's 5,000 meter event. Abbey D'Agostino of the United States and Nikki Hamblin of New Zealand helped each other and finished the race with times of 17:10.02 and 16:43.10. 9. CHEN AISEN'S performance led China to their seventh gold medal in diving at the Rio Olympics. 10. THE UNITED STATES MEN'S OLYMPIC BASKETBALL TEAM won gold in the final knockout round with a victory over Serbia and a score of 96-66. This was the team's third consecutive gold medal.

US SWIMMERS: AN UNSTOPPABLE CLASS OF ATHLETES



U.S. SWIMMERS were standout athletes at the Rio Olympics. Michael Phelps, the most decorated Olympian of all time, picked up five more gold medals and a silver, bringing his collection to a total of 28. The 31-year-old confirmed plans to retire and said he wouldn't compete in the 2020 Olympic Games in Tokyo. Female U.S. swimmers Katie Ledecky and Simone Manuel each made history in Rio. Ledecky broke her own record in the 800-meter freestyle, becoming the first woman to sweep the 200, 400 and 800 freestyle races since 1968. Manuel tied for gold in the 100-meter freestyle, making her the first African American woman in history to win an individual Olympic swimming medal.

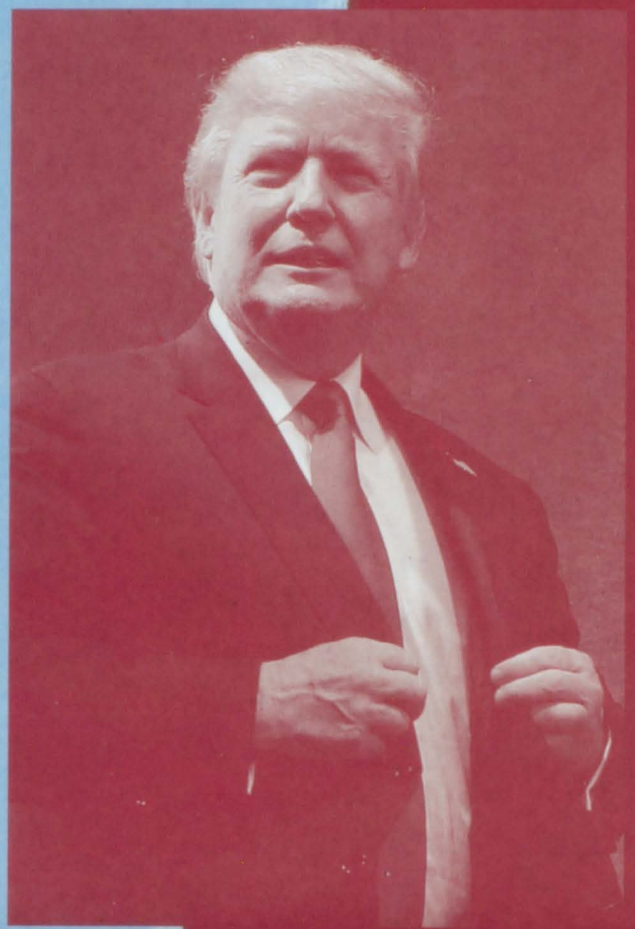
ERA OF VARIED OPINION & VAST DIVIDE



THE 2016 PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION was a particularly unusual political journey from the beginning.

Seventeen major Republican candidates entered the race in early 2015, making it the largest presidential primary field for any political party in American history.

By May 3, only three of those Republican candidates remained: Donald Trump, Ted Cruz and John Kasich. Trump became the presumptive nominee on May 4, and, on July 15, officially announced via Twitter that Mike Pence was his chosen running mate.

On the other side, opinion polls predicted Hillary Clinton as the front-runner Democratic presidential nominee; she was up against Bernie Sanders, Martin O'Malley and Lincoln Chafee. Clinton and Sanders took turns winning important caucuses and primaries, but on July 12, Sanders withdrew and officially announced his endorsement of Clinton.

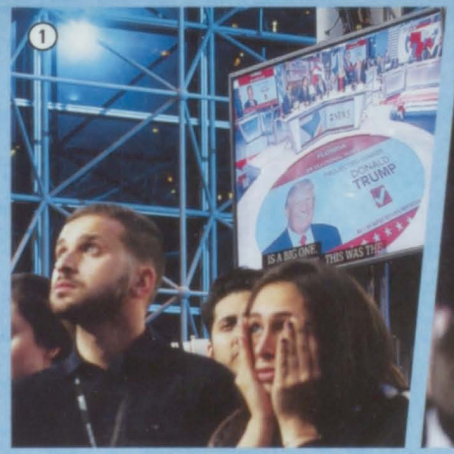
On July 22, she announced Tim Kaine as her running mate. Both Trump and Clinton were formally nominated during the respective Republican National Convention in Cleveland, Ohio from July 18-21, and the Democratic National Convention in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania from July 25-28.

Clinton focused on raising middle class incomes and women's rights, while Trump focused on sizable income tax cuts, illegal immigration and the repeal of the Affordable Care Act. The two discussed these issues, and more, at the first of three presidential debates on September 3, which became the most-watched debate in American history, with more than 80 million viewers.

On Nov. 8, 2016 Trump became president-elect with 306 electoral votes. Republicans maintained control of the Senate and House of Representatives.

CONFLICTED

1. CLINTON SUPPORTERS watched closely and waited on election night as the number of electoral votes continued to favor Trump. 2. TRUMP SUPPORTERS celebrated at the New York Hilton Midtown as results were broadcast worldwide.



3. FORMER PRESIDENT BARACK OBAMA delivered his farewell speech on Jan. 10 in Chicago. During the televised address, the crowd chanted, "Four more years!" and at one point, Obama became teary-eyed while thanking his wife, Michelle, in a touching and emotional moment. 4. BEYONCÉ AND JAY-Z officially endorsed Democratic nominee Clinton at the "Get Out the Vote" concert in Cleveland, Ohio on Nov. 4. 5. THE DAY AFTER THE INAUGURATION millions of women and men worldwide marched to take a stance on prominent political discussions, especially those of women's rights. These marches and demonstrations eventually led to even greater conversations around how important of a civil responsibility it is to vote.

DONALD J. TRUMP, 45TH PRESIDENT OF THE US

6. BETSY DEVOS became the 11th Secretary of Education after a 50-50 tie in the Senate was resolved by a tie-breaking vote cast by Vice President Pence. This was the first time the vice president was called upon to break a tie for a presidential cabinet position. 7. HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE attended the 58th presidential inauguration of President Trump and Vice President Pence on Jan. 20, 2017. 8. PROTESTS ensued throughout the country after the inauguration. Some turned violent as protesters gathered alongside his supporters at Trump Towers in New York and Chicago and chants rang throughout that stated "Not my president!"

Similar warnings throughout the world were not uncommon; China issued a yellow weather alert in regards to the heat and Chile did the same.

SHIFTING GROUND AND STANDING ROCK

WIDE OPPOSITION OF THE DAKOTA ACCESS PIPELINE LED TO DISORDER.

THERE ARE TWO SIDES to every story. This time, the battle was over the Dakota Access Pipeline that would transport oil from the Bakken oil fields of North Dakota to the plains of Illinois — if only its last mile and a half of 1,700 miles could be completed. The center of opposition was the Standing Rock Sioux Tribe, who occupied land near the development site. Thousands of protesters and many Native American tribes also opposed the project. Energy Transfer Partners claimed the construction of the pipeline would lead to greater economic development, as well as increased safety and efficiency, but the Standing Rock Sioux Tribe argued the development would destroy ancestral land, threaten their water supply and be an overall burden to residents of the tribe. Environmental activists named more consequences, such as man-made climate change, should construction of the pipeline move forward. Following the lengthy battle, President Donald Trump signed executive orders that advanced approval of the pipeline only four days following his inauguration.

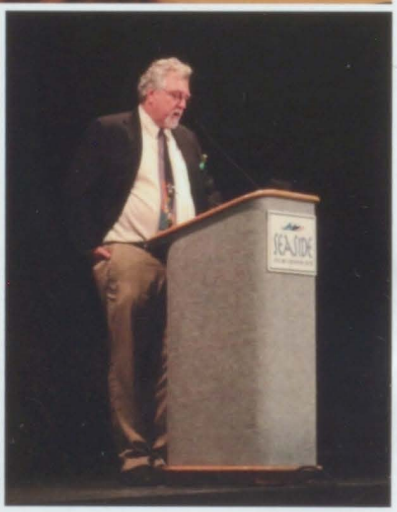
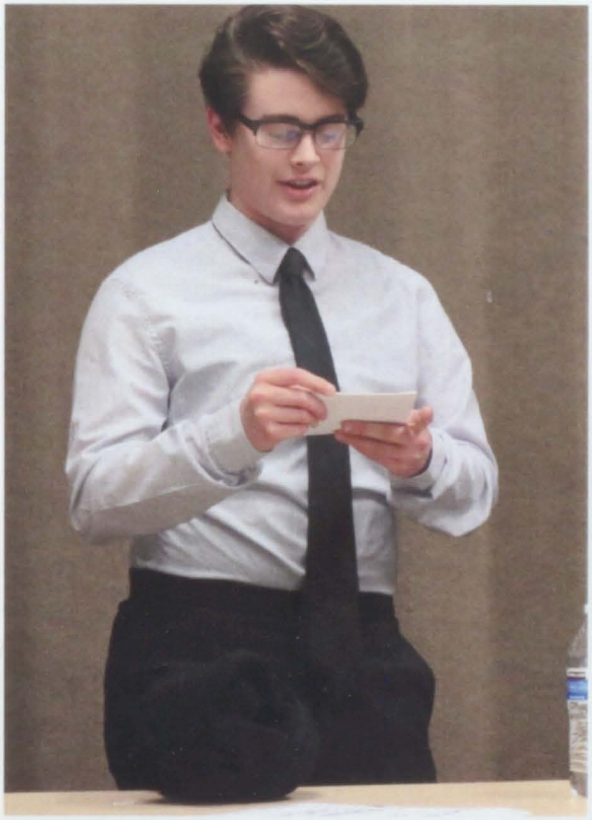
PACIFICAS



Adam Morse, 12, Zeynep Payzanoğlu, 12, Mr. Michael Hawes, Max McNeill, 12.

The Pacifica Presentation is an annual ritual that Seniors and Juniors alike have to endure. As the name suggests, the Pacificas are presentations put on by the departing senior class at The Seaside Convention Center. These presentations can and are about anything that the seniors wish, however, they have to put in fifty hours of community service to meet the Pacificas' requirements.

"You have joined a long legacy of Seaside High seniors that have put thousands and thousands of hours into our community, in all the vast, arrayed and wonderful ways we define community. Twenty-five years of Pacifica Projects and Presentations. Some of you have done, perhaps, better than others, but oh, my, the class of 2017, you have made a difference. You have touched lives, perhaps even helped save lives, in all the ways lives can be touched and saved, and maybe once in a while, it might even be your own life. Because here we ask you to get outside your own head and inside the life of others. And you have done this." - Mr. Michael Hawes



DON'T BE NOLAN

Q: What was your Pacifica about?
Milliren: -sigh- my Pacifica was on the restoration of this garden area, the freshman patio, and I built a bench and that's pretty much it.
Q: Why was that your Pacifica?
Milliren: I was extremely lazy, the only reason this was my Pacifica was because I put it off and put it off and didn't do jack.
Q: What could you have done differently?
Milliren: Not been lazy. The biggest thing is just not be lazy. If you can start junior summer. If you get the opportunity go to outdoor school, it's really easy and simple. It really overcomplicates things when you decide on just one thing. I've got two older brothers and neither of them really talked about it so I assumed it would be easy, but good lord.
Q: Any advice for future Seniors?
Milliren: Get your stuff done, genuinely, like even if it's not like this big impressive project or this big important thing, just get it done as long as you can have it happen. When you're a freshman you can slack off a little, sophomore year you only really have the SoRP, but then junior year is a quite a bit harder, and then senior year is like the climax.

WALKING FOR A BRIGHTER LIFE

Breaking the silence

After a public incident of bullying at the high school earlier this year, a few students were moved to establish a group that would take a stand against not only bullying but all forms of violence, prejudice and abuse, and also provide a positive voice in the school and larger community.

"You can't control the way you are," said junior Celeste Kerr, who initiated the movement along with Jasmine Hewitt, Faythe Koontz and Brittany Case. "We shouldn't be ridiculed in a school that's supposed to be safe. If it is a safe, healthy environment, it's not going to include that kind of stuff in our lives."

Student Aaron Kiser described how too often at school, one will be looking at other individuals and see that "something is happening or someone is crying."

"It's always easy to be quiet and not say a word," he said. "You're just passing by or you're busy."

Yet, he added, while at first it may seem difficult to approach those people, talk to them and ask what's going on, doing so can make a significant difference.

"Just asking someone if they're okay can save a life," agreed fellow student Kodie Stark.

Hence, Breaking the Silence was deemed a fitting description and title for what the students hope to accomplish by uniting with one another. Bullying has affected each of the members in one way or another. Some are the victims of bullying, some former perpetrators, and others were witnesses. A few had taken each role at one point or another. They have seen the negative ramifications of bullying, including self-harm and suicide, and want to make a difference.

"In order for a change to happen, everyone has to do something about it," group member Autumn Benthien said. "That's kind of what we're doing. We're trying to make that change and get everyone to not only see what they're doing, but also help people with their struggles."

When a tragedy occurs as a result of bullying, people often are shaken up and willing to change, but "that's not how it should be," Kiser said, adding people should be kind to one another "every single day without something like that happening."

"It should never have to come to that," he said.

Fellow student Lola Paser-Johnson echoed that sentiment.

"It's sad to think that someone has to take their life in order for people to see that it's a big thing, that someone has to kill themselves in order for people to realize, 'Wow, bullying is a big deal,'" she said.

In response to a significant bullying incident, junior Faythe Koontz and friends made the decision to start a club that would spread kindness and happiness throughout Seaside High School. Their goal was to change the climate of the school in a positive way.

Says Koontz, "I saw behaviors in my classmates that were disappointing and frankly, disturbing and I wanted to change how we all treat each other. My goal is to bring our student body together so that we can be unified ensuring that Seaside is a positive place to learn." The formation of this club is also Koontz's Pacifica Project, giving her a jump on her community service for next year.

FEAST-A-PON CULTURE

Seaside High School celebrates Cinco de Mayo by bringing the kitchen to Ms. Annie Lynes' classroom.

The students of Ms. Annie Lynes' third and fourth year Spanish classes help her with the set up. This includes transforming the classroom into a restaurant, bringing the food in, serving the food, and making the food.

Every student at SHS is welcome to come and order the Cinco de Mayo cafe food, and it is one of the most popular fundraisers held at SHS. The Cinco de Mayo cafe is one big help toward the Spanish classes offered.

So Long, Farewell!

Our wonderful beloved teachers, will be greatly missed. As seaside high school continues to grow so do the teachers who leave from here. Lives go on and people grow beyond expectancy.

Vanessa Rush, Choir and Drama Teacher: Going to become a real estate agent will be fondly thought of and will always be a great reminder of days long past.

Chad Smith, Life Skills Teacher and Head Football Coach, he's going to be teaching at Douglas High School as a PE Teacher in Winston, OR. He leaves so many students joyful and wanting more, as time goes on the stories linger in the hearts of many, never to be erased from that class room setting where everything began.

And finally Brian Purnell the Assistant Principal for a year. Accepted a Principal position at Prospect Charter School in southern Oregon. Although he has only been at Seaside High School for a short time he will be remembered and revered.
Sad to see these wonderful members of Seaside High Schools staff leave, but best wishes to them.

Lacee,
It's been a wild few months, but we have enjoyed every second of it. Remember, "There's nowhere you can be that isn't where you're meant to be." The Beatles always knew how to say it best. Love you my dear! We'll miss you!

SMOOTH SAILING

The theme of prom was ocean clear when prom court princesses set off to find their sailors! These four ladies (except senior, Will Garvin, who stepped in for the absent princess, Kelsey Crider) set off through a tough course across the sea. But no worries, they all had their safety floaties. These princesses rode their scooter ships through a beach ball storm, then cast their lines into the sea, in hopes of catching their sailor's name. Then found the matching message in a bottle, and went to retrieve their partner. Finally, the secret was revealed. Princesses Kelsey Crider, Natasha Mendenhall, Lexi Wingenbach, and Paty Granillo passed the sashes to princes Ian McCrary, Scott Plampin, Cristian Angles, and Shane Smith.

SPRING INTO FASHION

What better way to prepare for prom than a little Spring Week fun? The week of April 25th was all about spring spirit for Seaside High School to lay the ground work for prom night on April 29th. To top off the festivities, Seaside students had only a four day school week, following an In-Service day on Monday, the 24th. Tuesday was "Island in the Sun' day, a time to break out the flip flops and shades. Wednesday followed with "Tulip Twins".

Students broke out the tie dye for "Flower Power" Thursday, and sported their favorite school attire for "Surfin' USA" Friday! Just like homecoming, classes gained points for every member dressed up in a competition to see who exactly had the most spring spirit. Ending the week, many students set sail and started their weekend with prom!

The junior class office this year did a great job decorating for Prom. They all put great effort in to plan the best dance yet. When it came to finally decorating, Jessie Chisholm, Kylee Finn, Corrie Falleur, and Megan McQuilliams all put in late hours to get it done.

The junior class every year plans prom, and the theme chosen this year was Anchors Away. The colors were navy blue, white, and silver. The Junior class did a fantastic job of making the theme stand out in the open space of the loft. The decorations included lights, buoys, maps, several types of table decorations, and even more. The Seaside High School computer teacher, Mr. Verhulst was the DJ, and he played some great tunes. Students got into the dances, especially the organized ones like 'The Cupid Shuffle'. The ladies' dresses looked outstanding, and all of the men looked fly. The King and Queen were announced towards the middle of the dance. Ian McCrary was crowned Sailor, and his Queen was Kelsey Crider. Both were very happy to have won, and shared a dance. It was overall a really fun night.

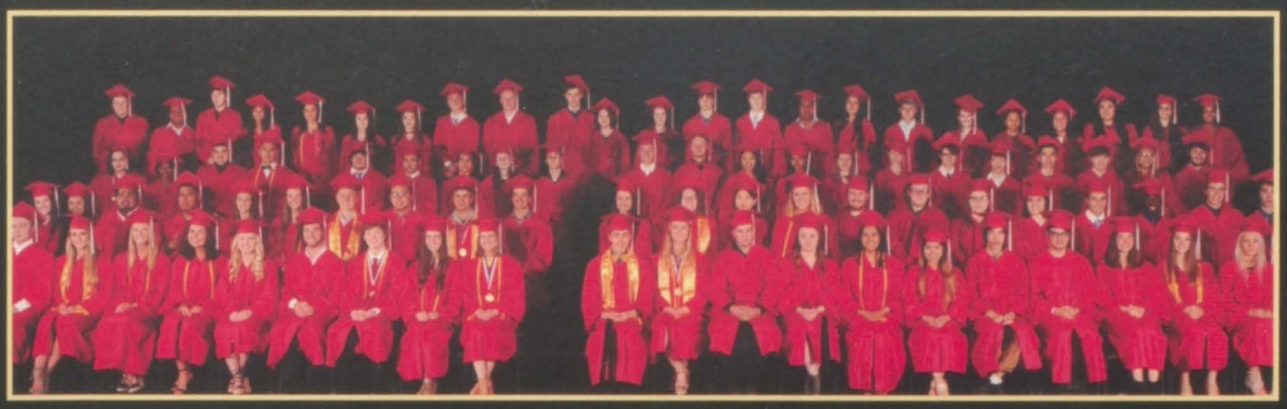
ONE HEART MANY DREAMS



CLASS OF 2017

Alejandra Mayes, Lashayla Jones.

Seaside Seagulls Take Flight!

Pushing through the hard work and all the late nights spent studying, the Seagulls of 2017, 89 strong, graduated in a way only they could. Shooting confetti poppers into the air and taking their last selfies as high school students, along with their first as high school graduates, they got into the celebratory spirit of this very special evening! Known by Mr.Clouse as the "class of procrastination" these students worked hard to get where they are. The class of 2k17 had a whopping 5 valedictorians; Summer Spell, Dania Nolazco, Caroline Kotson, Carson Schulte, and Elizabeth Barnes. Last but not least we have our Salutatorian Hunter Thompson.

The slide show was a hit, as per usual. The show was set to songs like "Forever Young" and "Here Comes the Sun." The choir performed not only "The Star Spangled Banner," but also did a rousing rendition of the always popular Queen song, "Bohemian Rhapsody." Solos were performed by seniors Noah Brien, Carson Schulte, Nolan Milliren, Maren Mannix and Adam Morse. "Washington and Lee Swing," more commonly known in the community as the "Seaside High School Fight Song," was played exuberantly by the SHS band as the class of 2017 processed back down the aisle as newly graduated human beings. We wish you much success and happiness as you soar into the future.

BATTER UP

The softball season this year was a rough one. The girls practiced hard, and played hard, but only ended up with 5 winning games.

Through the season, many games were canceled due to weather. 20 games were lost, despite the effort from the dedicated players.

TRIPLE THREAT SENIORS

The 2017 baseball boys had to look to each other this season, due to there being no designated team captains. The team all voted together to eliminate the traditional team captain, and all be equal leaders. With this said, the senior leaders had some big shoes to fill, being role models for all younger players. It goes without saying that those three seniors surely stepped up to the plate.

Scott Plampin has been pitching since his freshman year, and his last year as a Seagull was proof of four years of hard work. In Plampin's last 16+ innings, he had 15 strike outs and gave up not a single walk, ending his career with two wins.

Otto Hoekstre showed his dedication in the batter's box. In the last game, vs. Scappoose, Hoekstre alone had 2 hits, one being a triple, and scored two runs for the win. When facing Banks, Hoekstre hit a double, which sent Brent Walsh across the plate, for the tie run. Hoekstre made the go-ahead run, but the boys lost a heart breaking 7-8, to eventual league champions, Banks.

Last, but not least, Walsh played selflessly for the good of the entire team. Walsh personally preferred to play center infield, but unfortunately saw less time on short stop than he would have liked. He spent most of his time catching, where he excelled for the greater good of the team. This year's seniors will be greatly missed, by both teammates and coaches, along with their four years of dedication to the Seaside baseball team.

MIND OVER MATTER

The Seaside High School Track team spends hours and hours improving every part of their athletic abilities to its peak. Their mission is to be the best they can while beating everyone who opposes their obvious superiority. Not even thinking of defeat, they fearlessly went wherever the competition was, and putting everything they have into pushing the Seaside High School Track Team to victory.

Running, throwing, and jumping as hard and far as they try to bring a win and glory to Seaside High School. Where ever they go, they push themselves to their absolute limits to show the competition that Seaside High School breeds champions.

Seaside High School athletes take their sport to heart. They endure rigorous training to be better than everybody who would oppose them. Whether it is running or javelin throwing, they put heart and soul into their desired part of the track team.

SHOOTING BIRDIES

Mason Shamion, 10. Samson Sibony, 10. Connor Merrell, 10.

The golf team pushed their boundaries and the carried the seagull pride with them rain or shine (prefferably shine). Led by Mr.Jim Poetsch, he challenged them to do their best and improve stroke by stroke. "In golf, as in life, it is the follow through that makes the difference," said Dr.Seuss. They brought the sportsmanship of a man everywhere they went on and off the course. "A bad attitude is worse than a bad swing," says eleven time PGA tour winner Payne Stewart.

Top Row: Carson Schulte, 12, Ian McCrary, 12, and Juneau Meyer, 12.
Bottom Row: Summer Spell, 12, Morgan Brown, 12, and Josie Smith, 12.

"I love being involved in Young Life band because it has given me the chance to be a part of something bigger than myself: serving and getting to know my peers," says Morgan Brown. The Young Life Band is growing from just a small idea to a reality. From playing popular music we hear on the radio to mash ups they made themselves. These Seniors have played their hearts and souls out for their fellow students in the crowd. "It would be great if underclassmen could continue the club band for future years!" says Summer Spell. They did not want their dream to die and have taught a new batch of young musicians to keep the dream alive.
